The ATA Carnet System

A. What is an ATA Carnet?

An ATA Carnet is a temporary importation customs document which is issued by Chambers of Commerce throughout the world within the scheme sponsored by, and under the aegis of, the International Bureau of Chambers of Commerce, Paris, known as the "IBCC Chain". A Carnet dispenses of the need for raising bonds or depositing duty at customs posts in different countries. The Carnet contains the appropriate customs clearance papers, and generally this is the preferred customs method for entry of goods temporarily.

B. How do Carnets work?

The ATA Carnet is a simple customs document. The document includes two vouchers for each foreign country you wish to visit. You hand one voucher to the foreign customs people when you enter the country and the other when you leave. There are also two vouchers for presentation to customs when leaving and returning to your own country. You do not need to carry your goods with you. They can be sent on ahead with the carnet by road, rail, air, sea or even post (with a few exceptions) and can enter and leave countries at different points. A single Carnet enables you to visit an unlimited number of countries during one year.

C. What goods qualify?

- (a) Commercial samples and advertising film (16mm) under the Commercial Samples Convention;
- (b) Goods for international exhibition – under the Goods and Exhibition Convention;
- (c) Professional equipment under the Professional Equipment Convention eg:-

Articles for meetings for a charitable purpose or to promote any branch of learning. Articles for art; sport; religion; etc; equipment for the press; sound and television broadcasting equipment; musical instruments; costumes; scenery and other stage properties, plus cinematography equipment for use by surgeons, archaeologists, zoologists, entertainers, lecturers, etc; vehicles (for commercial or racing purposes only).

NB: The issuing of a Carnet for a vehicle does not obviate the holder's compliance with any other regulations of the country of importation.

Procedural arrangements with The Chamber

1. Application form

To secure a Carnet an application form must be completed. The form, when signed, constitutes the following undertaking:

- Provides that the goods will be repatriated. If not, the applicant is liable to the customs authorities of the country of import for all duties and/or taxes involved in the final importation of the goods.
- Observes all the provisions or regulations in force in both the country of export and import.
- Reimburses the issuing body (ie. Australian Business) for any sum it is called upon to pay to the Guaranteeing Body in the country of import in connection with any goods not re-exported within the period of validity of the Carnet; plus any other costs which the issuing body may incur as a result of the nonobservance of the Carnet conditions.

2. General List

The general list to be returned with the application form. Here you document the list of goods for which you require a carnet.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION from customs regarding commercial values

The value of goods stated on ATA Carnet is the export value in the country of issue of the carnet

Carnet holders must declare a value corresponding to the true commercial value and attach a statement certifying the accuracy of that value to their application for delivery of carnet.

Under the ATA convention, should you under-declare the value, you are liable for penalties which might include seizure or confiscation of the goods.

3. Security – Indemnity of Australian Business

Apart from the fee for the issue of a Carnet, referred to above, Australian Business also require, as security, an amount equal to the highest assessment of duty and internal tax on goods listed in the countries to be visited, plus 10 per cent thereof. No release of a Carnet can be made until Australian Business is supplied with the security, by means of cash, bank cheque, bank guarantee or indemnity guarantee. The security shall be unlimited as to time. Australian Business Chamber will retain the right not to relinquish security for thirty days following the return of a Carnet, counterfoils intact and unused vouchers (if any) attached, and the Carnet has been fully discharged with no apparent liability. The return of the security will be conditional on there being no unforeseen and irrefutable liability arising.

Note: The bond can be lodged by means of Bank Guarantee if the amount is equal or greater to $10,000.

This guarantee should be unlimited in time.

- The Carnet holder is solely responsible for any cost of negotiations with or proceeding against customs authorities, or any other person, in connection with any claim for payment of import duties and/or taxes on missing goods.
- Amorphous descriptions of goods cannot be accepted, eg: “machinery”, “apparel”, “jewellery”. In the case of commercial samples the Carnet facilities apply only where the number of identical goods is reasonable for the purpose of importation.
- In all cases the list of goods covered by Carnet may not include such items as paints, cleaning materials and leaflets which are considered as “consumable stores” and are either given away or used abroad.
- Once the list of goods has been set up in the Carnet, no additions or alterations are allowed.
- Descriptions of goods must be detailed and the list itemised. If more than one item of the same group is to be covered, individual values of each must be shown, as well as the total value.

4. How long does it take to issue a Carnet?

Early lodgement of applications is appreciated. Although Australian Business will be as helpful as it can in issuing Carnets, unless five clear working days are given, together with the application an extra cost will be incurred, and then only undertaken if within the capacity of the office.

5. Separate Insurance

A Carnet does not indemnify against loss of goods by theft or accident or the liability for duty or taxes on them. It would be prudent for the holder of a Carnet to take out insurance to cover those liabilities.

Statutory export requirements, regulations and prohibitions are not superseded by a Carnet. When required by customs, the holder is obliged to conform.
